TOP TIPS FROM AROUND THE WORLD: PROVEN STRATEGIES FOR EXPONENTIAL GROWTH

Join this panel where four of Young Living's most successful members from around the world will share their diverse strategies for business-building success.

Presenters:

ADAM GREEN, CROWN DIAMOND, CANADA; TERI SECREST, CROWN DIAMOND, U.S.; DIETFRIED WRUSS DIAMOND, AUSTRIA; PATRICIA GWEE, DIAMOND, SINGAPORE; AND MODERATOR KIM HILL, U.S. SALES MANAGER

ADAM GREEN

In November 2011, at 22 years old, Adam resigned from his personal training job and committed full time to his business. Motivated by his ability to control his own destiny and accelerate his retirement, Adam achieved Crown Diamond at only 25 years old, the youngest in Young Living's 20-year history. Today, Adam has found his purpose and is living a lifestyle that many only dream about. His burning desire to share Young Living and empower others with their physical and financial wellbeing is infectious among his dedicated team members.

TERI SECREST

A natural health educator for more than 25 years, Teri Secrest is an author, successful international business owner and leader, and a Young Living Crown Diamond who has made more than 50 television and radio guest appearances.

DIETFRIED WRUSS

With the firm belief that it is not only important to do things right but to do the right things, Dietfried did not hesitate to join Young Living when his friend Barbara Ochsenhofer introduced him to essential oils. The quality of Young Living's products spoke for themselves, and he was hooked! His advice to anyone seeking Young Living success is to establish a plan, then to plan your work and work your plan.

PATRICIA GWEE

Singaporean Patricia Gwee is Young Living's first Asian-born Diamond. A graduate of the University of Calgary, mother of two, practitioner of integrative therapies, humanitarian, world traveler, and multinational corporate employee, Patricia has merged her unique collection of experiences into a highly effective business-building approach. Her business background and world travel have made her able to recognize others' strengths and talents while overcoming barriers of language and culture, helping her to develop strong teams and mentor new leaders wherever she finds them.

Join a panel discussion with Young Living's brand ambassadors as they discuss Young Living products and athletic performance.

Presenters:

YOUNG LIVING BRAND AMBASSADORS STEVIE BAGGS, JR.; ANNIE HAWKINS; JAMES A. LAWRENCE; AND MITCH SEAVEY

STEVIE BAGGS, JR.

Stevie Baggs, Jr., is a three-time All-American and graduate of Bethune-Cookman University. He is the only athlete to ever play for 11 professional football teams, and his soon-to-be released book, Greater than the Game, recounts how his experiences in the NFL and CFL prepared him for a purpose beyond the stadium. Stevie now works to empower youth and adults nationwide through motivational speaking and has been honored as the city of Atlanta's Health and Wellness Ambassador by Mayor Kasim Reed. Stevie is also president of the CETA (Creating Empowerment through Autonomy) Foundation, which recently celebrated its 11th year of service to at-risk communities.

ANNIE HAWKINS

Currently the captain of the Real Salt Lake Women's soccer team, Annie played collegiate soccer at Gonzaga University, professional soccer for QBIK in the Damallsvenskan league in Sweden, and was on the U.S. National B team for three years. Off the field, her passions are faith, creativity, making a difference, and working in social media marketing and graphic design.

JAMES A. LAWRENCE

Nicknamed "The Iron Cowboy," James Lawrence is a triathlete who, in 2010, set a world record for completing 22 half-Iron distance races in just 30 weeks. Born in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, James grew up committing his energy to wrestling and golf. It was only after his wife, Sunny, challenged him to compete in a marathon in 2009 that he realized his athletic gifts lay in endurance sports. He is now a two-time Guinness World Record holder.

MITCH SEAVEY

Mitch Seavey moved with his family to Alaska in 1963 and began sled dog racing with his father that same year. Mitch competed in his first Iditarod in 1982 at the age of 22, and then turned his attention to raising four sons with his wife, Janine. In 1995, Mitch returned to the Iditarod, becoming the first and only living musher in 75 years to complete the entire Iditarod trail from Seward to Nome. He has competed in every Iditarod since, winning in 2004 and 2013.

NANCY BRANDT

Known as the pioneering figure in veterinary aromatherapy, Nancy runs an integrative holistic practice in Las Vegas, Nevada. She has practiced some form of veterinary medicine for the past 33 years and has integrated the oils into her practice for the last 13. Drawing from her expertise and extensive background in integrative wellness, she has given lectures, webinars, and phone consultations all over the world. Additionally, she and Marcella Vonn Harting have published six videos on aromatherapy for dogs, cats, and horses. As a single mother of three, grandmother of one, and guardian to three dogs and one horse, Nancy uses essential oils at home as well to benefit her family.

BARBARA A. FOX

Barbara Fox has been in veterinary practice for the past 20 years. She was introduced to Young Living in 2007 after facing breast cancer. Noticing remarkable improvements in her own wellness, Dr. Fox started researching the use of essential oils in animals. Her first professional publication, "Integrative Management of a Necrotic Wound in a Young Cat Using Essential Oils," was published in the Journal of the American Holistic Veterinary Medical Association in November of 2013. Dr. Fox is a member of the American Holistic Veterinary Medical Association and is owner of Beyond Tradition Animal Healing Center in Wadena, Iowa.

HISTORY OF WHEAT: TAKE CONTROL OF YOUR HEALTH

Join Dr. William Davis for a surprising, timely presentation about the benefits of ancient einkorn wheat and the potential health pitfalls of contemporary hybridized wheat. Discover how the prevalence of the familiar, hybridized, modern strain of wheat may correlate with a troubling rise in metabolic diseases around the world. This presentation will change your relationship to food in a positive way. There is no complicated diet to follow—simply eliminate wheat and enjoy the instant benefits to your health and feeling of well-being.

Presenter:

DR. WILLIAM DAVIS, MD

Dr. William Davis is author of the No. 1 New York Times bestselling book Wheat Belly: Lose the Wheat, Lose the Weight, and Find Your Path Back to Health. Formerly an interventional cardiologist, he now confines his practice in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to prevention and reversal of coronary disease. Dr. Davis is a graduate of the St. Louis University School of Medicine and trained in internal medicine and cardiology at the Ohio State University Hospitals and in interventional cardiology at the Case-Western Reserve Hospitals in Cleveland, Ohio. As part of his ongoing effort to better document the potentially adverse health effects of wheat, he has founded the Wheat Free Research and Education Foundation.
